"I initially became involved in President Barack Obama's election in 2008 and I have been an enthusiastic supporter ever since.

There are many reasons why I am working diligently within his re-election effort, although the principal motivation is because I believe this election truly is a choice between two fundamentally different visions of the future within the United States. President Obama's vision is one of moving forward and not repeating the mistakes of the past while embracing fairness and equality. The President's vision is not encompassed solely for a select few, but for all Americans—both those who have been fortunate and also those who have been less privileged and need a helping hand for a period of time. Whether it has been through expanding healthcare to millions of Americans through Obamacare, or overseeing 30 straight months of job growth, President Barack Obama has focused on improving the lives of all Americans. In sharp contrast, Governor Romney would embrace the disastrous economic policies of the previous administration with insufficient regulation and a false reliance on tax cuts focused on the wealthy.

Governor Romney himself has said that he has written off over 47% of Americans under his proposed policies. For me, and I have no doubt for most Americans on election day, the choice is clear and one that will lead to the reelection of President Barack Obama."
