U.S. President Barack Obama has appointed a top Indian-American fundraiser Shefali Razdan Duggal as the member of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Council. Ms. Razdan Duggal helped several millions for Mr. Obama's campaign in the 2008 and 2012 presidential election campaigns.

"The extraordinary dedication these men and women bring to their new roles will greatly serve the American people. I am grateful they have agreed to serve in this administration and I look forward to working with them in the months and years to come," Mr. Obama said.

The United States Holocaust Memorial Council was established by Congress in 1980 to lead the nation in commemorating the Holocaust and to raise private funds for and build the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. — PTI
